OUISVILLEJOURNAL

THE SKIRMISH IN OWEN COUNTY -Owing to the non-arrival of the Cincinnati mail boat before the Jonnael was printed on Thursday night, we failed to receive the details of the ekirmish in Owsu county on Wedne day, as the Federa troops engaged came down ou that boat. Capt Nicklin, of the Thirteenth Indiana Battery, was in command of the F derals at the time of the skirmish, and he and a handful of men fought gailantly against great odds. Teken sitogether the expedition was sminently successful, as Cept. N. hronght down no less than thirty prisoners Oa Wednesday one man who attempted to pes our lines was shot and wounded, and it is thought the wourd will prove fatel.

NEW CAVALRY COMPANY .- Capt. Speed Peay of this city, a young gentisman of experience in thn service, proposes to raise a company in this city, to be attached to Colonel Metcalfe's cavalry regiment, which will he detailed for duty in Kertneky. This is an exessiont apportunity for Kon tuckians to serve not only the cause of the Union hut of the Commouwealth. Captain Feay may be found at Batmau's stable.

CUMDERLAND GAP -The rumor that the rehei had evecuated Cumberland Gap is fully ve laed. The Military Board at Frank'ort received a de spatch to that effect on Thursday, and the report is otherwise officially corroborated.

THURLOW WEED'S REPORT ON OUR FOREIGN RELATIONS .- Thuriow Waed strived at New York on the sleamer Persia. The New York

Mr. Weed, accompanied by his friends and escorted by the committee, then proceeded to the Aster Honse, where hreshfist was partaken of Alderman Smith presiding at the table. During the course of the meal national affairs were freely discussed, and Mr. Weed, speaking fre by, any possibly not thinking how much weight his words would carry, remarked:

The state of public southment abroad was far from gratitying. The French Government cherished no friendly sentiment toward us, and the propla were little hetter. But Prisce Napoico was our slacere, cornest friend, and lost no occasion to do us friendly offices.

The British ministry was divided. Lord Pel merston end Earl Russell were adverse to us, other members of the Cabinet were warmly affected towards the North. The Quesa, whenever see could say a word, always and seeded a mos decided sympathy with us. Prince Albert had always been a devoted friend of this country, and his last public act had been to modify a despatch which the micistry had prepared to seed to Lord which the mieistry had prepared to send to Lord

The general unfriendly sentiment cherished towerd us in the Old World, Mr. Weed attributed to the treecherons conduct of our diplomati-agents chroad. Full one third of them had for years heen engaged in preparing the public mind in Europe for the contemplated revolution, and a large number of Southern Congressmen had particle pated in the tressun. Win in America could have but an imperfect idea of the condition of popular centiment on that Continent.

Dr. Russell (of the London Times) was one of our hear friends in Europe. Ha took a very one our best friends in E gland. He took every occasion to express his sympathy for the North He spoke at the clubs, 10 mambers of Parliament, tovarybody whim he occuntered. He promunded our army as the finest in the world; the raw reour army as the finest in the world; the raw recruits were equel to veter ans in other countries.

Capitaliste were surprised most of all. Our country was dismembered and its extinction threatmed by civil war of mentrous proportions; yet wn met all the expenses, and were ahin to continue to do so for ten years without recurrence to foreign contributions; end our fonds had not depreciated since the bleaking out of hostlities. There was no other country in the world capable of such a financial schleysment. America was truly independent.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: GENTLEMEN: We see a suggestion in your columns, that, if the Union candidates in Lonisville and Jefferson cannot sattla matters among them selver, it may be necessary to hold a Union conversion. We superstitute that bope that no convention will be held. We think that its influence would be mischievens and on mischinvous. Wn faci well assured, after much that no recal, no matter what votas he may get, will he tolerated in effice.

We are wnli persuaded that the people don't want a convention, and thet the Union candidates don't want one, and thet neither people nor condidates would be satisfied with the results of oun. If a Unicu Convention were to make a nomination, all the secondenieta would almost critainly unite upon the rejacted candidate meagreeable to themshives, and, if they should fail to nlect him, they would probably give him a vote that they could crow over.

We throw out these suggestions for the considerable of the Lindship.

ration of the Union party.

When Aqua J. Clements was brought in to be When Acua J. Clements was brought in to be sentenced, Judge Johnson proceeded to lecturn her on the crime of lerceny and give her some good advice. She stood hold and defant, frequently interrupting him with insolent remarks. Here hack eyes felily fisshed fire and vengeance. As he closed with a two years's antence in the panitustisty, she yeiled cut, "Can't you give me a longer sentence, you ded did—2" and let five four or five stones one after the other like lightning. The Judges ducked their heads and dedged, barely escaping a hit. Then she baunded like a wild cat for the Judge, and actually got perily heliud the hench hefora she was so zed and heli, while she yulled and struggled with the strength of a strong man. We never saw such desperation She would no doubt have etabled the Judge if chu had here arreed, and we hear it said that she does carry a knife. REPORT OF COL. D. A. ENYART. BEATTLE FIELD OF BUILDU, April 9, 1562. Sim: I have the honor to submit the tallowing report of the pare borns by this regiment in the baile of the 6 h and 7th incts: We rauched Pitteburg Lunding about dusk on the 6 h, just as the enemy was retiring, and too late to take an active part in the cagagement of late to take an active pirt in the engagement of that day. Immediately on arriving we were ordered by Gen. Nelson te form in itoe of hattle and rost on our arms until morning, two of an ecompinies being sont out as kirmishers, ready to act on the appearance of daylight.

At four o'clock next morning we were ordered to advance in line of battle, any kirmishers keeple well to the front. We had reached but shouthif a mile when the relation jockets were not and handsomely driven in hy our skirmishers, with a loss on our side of one killed and several wounded We continued to drive them rapidly before as of a battery of three guns, which at this momen of a battery of three guns, which at this moment op and on our regim-ut fiercely, but fortunately without doing us much damage. Our skirmish ers, consisting of company A, Captein Wheeler, and company G, Captein Mirchell, logether with a portion of a company of the 9th Indiana, charged on this hattery and captured it after a sharp resistance ou the part of the enemy. The latter receiving reinforcements, our men were compelled to abaudon the guns so gallently won, and fall buck. This movement they executed in excellent style. This movement they executed in axcellent style, keeping up a steely time on the enemy as they retired and until relieved by the 19th brighte and three pieces of artillery. This brighed having forced the anemy to retire, our skirmishers again advanced and reoccupied their positions under orders to maintain it as long as possible, so as to avoid a general nugage and until our reserves should arrive.

When the engagement became general we were Its left and front. Here we were a blief and, by proport of Gen Buell, sent forward two more companies as skirmi-hers to feel the enemy's front, but the rabels having fallem back to the right and attacked the 6 h Kentucky, our ekirmishers wars ordered to assist that regiment. The two compules the sent forward were company C, Capt. Hunt, and compuny I, Capt. Hagan. They roudered most excellent service. Just at this time the remaining companies of our regiment were ordered to advance and take position on a ridge in the open had, when the rebels spaned a though forming a part of the whole general tremendous firm on us from a hattery of slx gnus, supported by three regiments of infantry.

Our man continued to hold this position amid fulness of the vine. Each power, function, n perfect storm of sbot, shell, and canister, which did fourful execution, until we were ordered by Gen. Buell to move by the right flank, and under

Gen. Buell to move by the right flank, and under shelter of the woods region our first position. Having exocuted this movement, we found that the right (our left). We were then ordered to protect our left flank, which the enemy now in large force seemed determined to lurn.

At this time we were reinforced by two companies of the 2d Kentucky, a portion of the 20th Kentucky, and three picess of artillery, which enabled us to cueck and repulse the anemy and to drive him before us for a considerable distance. Hairing for a moment to raily our mow we again advanced and occupied the hills and camps ou the extreme left of our liues, fully a milln in advance of any position we had hitherto hald. The enemy having by this time fled we were old-red back to camp, having been engaged in almost constant action from 5 o'cleck A. M. till 4 P. M.

till 4 P. M.

I cannot, in justice, make many distinctions in regard to the conduct of officers and mon, as all did their heet und seted nohly, but I think it is but fair to statu that the coolness and courage of Liout. Coi. Bart G. Leiper, Maj F. P. Cahid, and Adj Wright in uncouraging and rallying the men daserve great praiss. In addition to the captains above named, who readered great service with their companies as skirmishers. I her leave captains above named, who rendered great service with their companies as kirmishers, I hog leave to mention Captains Barr, Becker, and Hadlock, and Lieut. Shith (commending company F) whose conduct was highly commendable; also the color-hearer, Sergeant LB systeams, Sorgeant Major Lockwell, and Sergeant Brown.

It is due to Capt. Williamon, Co. II, lo state that he was dotailed to gurd artillery, and did not arrive on the field until Minday evening.

Most especially and gratefully do I refer to the admirabe and humane condect of Surgeon S. G. Menziea (acting Brigade Surgeon), who by his unceasing efforts and limely anargy did much to lessen the terrible suffering of cur wounded men, freely exposing himself throughout the day in freely exposing himself throughout the day in a very position (no matter how dangerous) where he desimed his presence nocessary. Dr. John Dekson, his efficient assistant deserves much credit for his cooduct in his depirtment.

In closing my report I cannot refrain from most favorably making mention of the 21 Kentucky. Col. Thomas D. Sedgewick, and the 20 h Kentucky. Unl. Unarles Hanson, regiments forming our hrigade, for the marked coinese and bravery exhibited by all the officers and mon during the antirn engagement.

There is scarcely a subject in the whols range of botnuical science upon which there is vriters admit that it is of great importance, and yet no two precisely agree in the conclu sions drawn from experiments upon it; and after a patient and careful examination of the

hest autnors, we are left as much in the derk

The most popular theory of the day, and one which we find advocated by many wise nd learned men, is that, at the fall of the leaf, the sap in the bracehes and truck of the plant gradually descends to the roots, and lodges there notil the return of spring, when, hy some unexplained power, it is forecd upward, filling all the branches, and eausng the leaves to put forth again, and the tree o grow. A majority of men, influenced meinvidually without reflecting much upon the ere, without wishing to pursuo the subjec any further: whilst others, seeing great chies ons to this theory, have disearded it, and set forth a new one, with this as the main feature ie eu'umn becomes changed into word, and is thus finally disposed of; consequently, that which rises in the following spring is a new supply. In the "E teyel que lia Brimmica"— article Botnny, page III—vo find "Walker, Burnett, and others, made incisions into the hark nud wood of trees in spring and summer, and marked the points where the sap made its appearance. In this way, they eudeavored to trace the course of the fluids in the stem. Walker enucludes from his experiments that the spring sap begins to flow at the root, that is seemed slowly upwards, and bleeds successive y as it aseconds to the very extremity of the

On the other hand, in "Carpenter's Vegetahle Physiology," page 148, we have: "If a vinc be growing on the ourside of a hot-house, "If a nd a single shoot bo trained within in the midst of winter, the warmth to which the later is exposed will causo its huds to swell and unfold themselves; whilst those on the outside are quite inactive. A demand for fluid will thus he occusioued along this particular branch; and this will be supplied by that existing in the vessels below. When these are emptied they will be again supplied by the parts below them; and thus the motion will be propagated connected with those of the vegetating branch These will absorb fluid for its support, whilst all the rest are completely at rest. spring of the year, when the cheerful rays of the sun call the whole of the huds into activity, the whole of the roots are similarly affected; and that the sup begins to move in the upper trunk has been shown hy experiment—notches having been cut at intervals, by which the period of its flow could be ascertained in each When doctors disagree, &z., &e. Here we have testimony precisely opposite. Of course, both are right in their own estimation. In the hope of finding the truth amought the telligent contributors who adoru your peges. have been induced to make the inquiry at the hend of this article. Will you give it a spare corner, and let us hear from them on the

My attention was first called to it by witnessing the operation of striking cuttings of the sup had all "descended to the roots," or had been "changed into wood," As soou as the sun poured his flood of golden light upon them and the little hrown buds felt his genial warmth, they began to swell and give signs of a new life. In a short time a thiu, clear fluid began to trickle down their sides, and form a ring up hidden treasures; and almost immeliately the huds broke and eams out in full began to question my new teachers:

Whence had you this power? Your life was drawn from you last fall, and you have no great reservoir at your hase, with powerful engines to send the crystal fluid through your voius at the approach of spring, and yet you grow al most as if still uttached to the parent vine. Culling to mind the words of the poet abou sermons in the stones und books in the ruu Surely, said I, here is food for thought. The fall of an apple led Sr Isaac Newton to the discovery of the laws of gravitation, and why mny not as simple n physiological fact as the striking of a catting lead to the true theory of the circulation of the sat?

From the teachings of the wisest and bes

nen the world bas ever known, I have been led to perceive that all things in the material Wherever there is a germ of Jile, or an organization receptive of life, there is into hent of the outward sun, an influx from the Creator, a constant effort to bring forth eil things good and heautiful; and the more I investigate, the more clearly I perceive th there are certain generals, composed of par-ticulars, in each of which, although they may be the smallest into which microseopical science has yet been able to divide them, there are thousand particulars, each as full and perfect is, every department of the vegetable kingexemplified in the vine, that heantiful symbo of Divine truth. In each ilttle rootlet, every tiny seed, and in each delicate bud, there is a germ, which, under certain circumstances, appears to me this could not by the case un of the snp in the whole plant, a particular eir

p operty, and characteristic of the parent i ere; and if, hy some estastrophe, the entire vine, with the exception of onc single bud, should he destroyed, from that a vine in every knowledge of the general system? Now, I do not pretend to say that I have ment of that object; nor do I think I ever shall; hut what I have to say may set others to thinking, and in the end truth may be Evolved. All plants, whether good and useful or noxious and hurtful, are in the same constant effort to reproduce their species, and, as this is their legitimate basiness in life, every facul-ty is directed to that ohj et. Every bul, within which is the germ of a new life, is nn espe cial object of maternal care and solicitude. Safely lodged at the base of the petiole, and to sleep by the gentle breezes, and fed every morning with the sparkling dewdrop. The purest and best portions of the clab raied s.p, fresh from the laboratory of the leaf, is devoted to it, invigorating and strengthening ever part, and cach day adding just what is needed

At the close of the year, the change in the color, and finally the fall of the leaf, anuounces that its task has been completed; the organization of the new life is full and perfect, and the happy parent goes to her rest to pre-Hero is the corner-stono and key to the whole superstructure. Every had so formed hccomes the centre of a new system, and whether cut from the parent stem and planted alone, or conjoined to another vine, or left where it originally grow, has within itself the enpacity to grow and impart to its offspring every peculiarity of form and color which characterized the parent vine Now, let us inquire, if the sap is "all changed into wood" at the fall of the leaf, or is "evaporated," or "descends to the roots," what is this mysterious substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the light and heat of the substance upon which the substance upon which the substance upon t tho sun in spring has such an influence? I have not been able to sutisfy my mind fully upon this point; but so far as my experiments dieates that the new huds are perfected, the general circulation of the plant h comes more and more obstructed by congregations of alba men, starch, sugar, &c., in the alburnum and eellular tissues of the medullary rays, the spiral canals in the medullary sheath, and pith of the newly formed wood, and finally becomes conzenled by the action of frosts, so as to ap ear entirely motionless.

This takes place first in the extremitles, then in the lower parts of the branches, and cometimes throughout the trunk, when the plant may he said to pass into a state corresponding to that which plants of another kind and so necessary onco in every twenty four hours. During this period, cut a vine where you please, and you cannot make it part with its sap. The duration of this sleep varies, or course, with different plants; with some, not more than one month clapses before they are awakened; with others, two, three, six months. regulated by the degroes of cold to which they are subjected and the peculiar nature of the

Now, as I have repeatedly observed—and I and my experiments confirmed by Carpenta and others-as the sap in the young and ten der slems on the extremities was the first to hecome coegealed and solid (if I may noe the term) in the aniumn, so it was the first to hacome liquified aed netive again in the spring Now commences what I have ealled the parnicular circulation in each of the buds or new systems. The warm rays of the sun, acting upon the cellular tissue of the young bark around the bud, disselve the congealed fluids, and they pass downwards, enter the medullary rays 10 the spiral vessels in the medullary sheath, through which they ascend, and flow outwards through the medullary rays again to the hark, thus forming a complete circle. Whilst this is going on, the congealed mass in the alburnum also feels the influence of the sun's rays, and, becoming liquified, presses upon the thickened mass in the colls next helow them, und they in their turn upon those adjoining them, and so on until a communica-tion is opened with the roots, when instantly a new actor steps up in the stage, a stranger whom the schoolmen call Endosmose The eetirc upper cells of the plant heing now filled to repletion with thick, gummy matter, the general circulation goes on very slowly at first, until hy means of this new agent the delicate walls of the root cells are opened, and in n thousand streams the rains and melted anows of the past wieter, holding in solution mineral ingredients necessary for the support of the starch into sugar, temporing, absorbing, and dispersing the obstructions in the sap-cells, und producing all over the plant that abundant flow which has no doubt given hirth to the theory of the "ascent of the sap from the roots." Sometimes this goes on for weeks and nonths helore the opening of the leaf and I have known these finide to be circulating reely in a grapo viuo in February, and yet he leaves and blossoms not unfold hefore May. Well, now, snpposo there was no descent of sap throngb the cellular tissues of the hark to nc roots, no deposit of earth um on the exerior of the alburnum, what amount of sap, think yon, would rise in two months at the ordinary speed of asennsion? Why, more than the whole vine would contain if it were composed entirely of sap. It is during this period that new roots are formed very rapidly. The separation and dis-reduction of the albuminous and starchy matters caused by the endosmot c entrance of naw fluids from the l'ruitful earth, furoish ah andant material for these; and the delicate fibres now push out in great numbers, and preparations go ou throughout the whole plant for the new work before it.

This is the renson why late fall or enrly spring planting of fruit trees is more successful than summer planting. As soon as the leaves appear, the whole energies of the plant are rim eround the base o each, from which, in a der hud-, next to the formation of new wood directed as hefore-first to the young and tenand roots, and lastly to the development of the luscious fruits. The eirculation of the sep now goes on regularly and orderly, the general diately the huds broke and eame out in full system supplying from its inexhaustible foun-lenf. SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1862.

We have received the following letter from a gentlemnn in the county of Pendleton To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: PENDLETON COUNTY, KY., June 10, 1862. PENDLETON COUNTY, KY., June 10, 1802.
In your Daily of Monday the 9th, undar the head "The Duty of County Judgee respecting the Officers of Elections," le discussed the duties of County Judges under the red "approved February 11th, 1858," and the late amendment thereof by the act "approved March 15th, 1862," without reference to any other law, making it the duty of County Judges to amount the officers of duty of County Judges to appoint the officers a duty of County Judges to appoint the officers of the elections.

The act of March 15, 1862, declares, that, in "construing the act of Feb. 11, 1858, those (1) who have sngaged in the rebellion for the overthrow of the Government, or (2) who have in any way sided, (3) or consulted, or (4) advised a separation of Kentucky from the Federal Union by force of arme, or (5) ndhered to those angaged in the effort to esparate her from the Federal Union by force of arme, shall not he daomad one of the political partles, within this Commonwealth, within the provisions of the act of Feb. 11, 1858," and in contracting the subject matters of these two acts as to their meaning and inteot, without a reference to any other law, upon the subject of appointing election officers, you arrive at the following sweaplog conclusions, to-wil: "Surely no incumbent can knowingly wield his effice against the existence of the government to which the office belongs without the deeptet abjectness and chame. I heact is mean ard dishonorchiase well accriminal. It is an act of which no proud man however disloyal would he guilty." These cavere and perhape just danurciatory conclusions appear to he adduced from a supposition that these two acts of 1858 and 1862 are the only laws by which a County Indee is to he guilded in that theee two acts of 1858 and 1862 are the only laws hy which a County Judge is to ha guided, in making appointments of the officers of the August clections.

The Revised Statutes, Vol 1, p. 432—Chap 32, Art. 3, Sec. 1, also provides "That each county count shall in the meath of June or July, in overy year, appoint two Jueticas of the Peeca, if so many there he, or one Justica and one other suitable person as judges, and a clerk of the election for each precipit in the county." Sec.

able person as judges, and a clerk of the election for each precinct in the cunity," &c.

Now, in connties where all the Justices of the Peace in office are of disloyal proclivities, or in precincte where both Justices are euch, how is a Connty Judge, who is loyal, in favor of the Constitution, the Union, and the inforcement of the laws, is act, in order to avoid your denunciations and at the same time to adhere to his principles of loyalty? Deethe act of Fsbruary 11, 1858, or that of March 5, 1862, repeal the above provision of the Revised Statutes, which seems to confine and limit the County Judge in his appointments to two or to one Justice of the proclint, without any reference to his loyalty or disloyalty—and how is a Judge to make his aplisloyalty—and how is a Judga to make his appointment where all the Justices in the country both in a precinct are disloyal? Is the Country Judge, under the supposed circumstances, to disregard the provisions of the Ravised Statutes, and make his appointments outside of the class designated in the Revised Sa'utes, under the far-reaching if not diagorous implication that disloyal efficials were not within the purview or contemplation of the law combining his appoint.

ASIATIC GIOLERA.

The prompt new of the Carminative Palsam will a contemplation of the law combining his appoint. ment to the class of officials named? Please answer, adding the reasons anforcing have been ashamed to utter.

We have already expressed our views on the point raised by this correspondent, but we will repeat the expression, though we own we do not see how the po'ut can embarrass for a noment any person of the slightest legal

It is admitted on all sides that in the ease brought forward the first section of the third article of the original law is clearly repugnant to the two laws amendatory of the section. In this case, the original section requires one thing, and the laws amendatory of the original section require another and a repugnant thing. Now, the sole question is as to whether, in consideration of this clear repugnancy between the old law and the new ones, the former shall yield to the latter or the latter to the former. And this question is answered by one of tho most familiar rules of construction. "An old statute gives place to a new one." This rule is as binding as any statutory command whatever. It determines the whole question. The action of our correspondent that this rnle nvolves a "far-reaching if not dangerons implication" is enough to disturb the dust of Blackstone in hls grave. The notion is ridie-

Our correspondent writes from the conn'y of Pendleten. In that county, if we are correctly informed, the mojority of the justices of the peace are disloyal men, and in three districts nt of the eight in the coun'y the justices of the peace are all disloyal. In Pendleton, therefore, the ease our correspondent puts by hypothesis exists in fact. The County Judge, however, is, as we unders'and, a loyal man. It accordingly will be his pleasure us well us his daty to appoint no disloyal man a judge of election whether he be a justice of the peace or not. It will certainly be his duty; and, if he is a loyal man, he will perform it.

The faithful performance of this duty by the tions below. It anything is wrong at Vicksburg, it will go and set all right, and then our County Judges in general is a matter of very grave consequence. The nuthorities are resolved on this point; aud, in order that fair warning may be had, we here repeat the advice we gave to loyal citizens in the article mentioned by our correspondent, that, wherever n County Judge of disloyal proclivities either refuses positively to do his lawful duty in this matter or postpone the doing of it beyond the usual period, they immediately report the case to Gen. Boyle at his Headquarters in this city. Let this advice be acted on, and the responsibility will then full where we are confident it will be promptly REGION -The Indiana and Obio friends of the suffering soldiers at Flat Lick end Barboursville hospitals may rest assured that Kentucky is amply providing for the wants of the sick at those haspitals. The Soldiers' Aid Sciety at L xirgton and the Sanitary Department of this city, with the liberal and judicious co-operation of the Mili tary Board of the State are rapidly forwarding large supplies of food. These three organiza tions have accured the services of Mr. Dowden. of Lexington, to take charge of the stores thus forwarded, to see that they are faithfully do livered to the bospitule and to remain and sethat they are faithfully provided for and dis tributed to the sick. Milch cows, sheep, and chickens are being purchased in oider to be sent to these mountain-region hospitals. But ter, oggs, fruits, ale, wines, and cordials in liberal quantities are now on the way to the Gip Capt. Brown, of the United States Army, at Lex ington, is zealously lending his valuable aid for the rapid transportation of everything that may be needed for the sick soldiers in the bospitals lo cated in the region desolated by the murderou and thisving bands of Zullicotfur. The loval of Kentucky will see that nothing is left unattended to that can promote the comfort and welfare o the faithful soldiers in the Cumberland Gan region. Kentucky owes them a deht that cannot be paid, but she will try and see that interest i shown toward it.

The Sanltary agencies of the State are unde many obligations to Dr. Todd, (f Lexington, for his zealons and invaluable services on this occa sion. The virtnes of Robert S. Todd seem fully revived in Dr. L B Todd.

MORE FRISONERS -We have stated already that a detachment of Capt. Blocd's Cavalry and Capt. Nickler's Thirteenth Indiana Battery were expected yesterday from Carrollton, Ky., with thirty-three prisoners from Owen, Henry, and adjuining counties. They arrived on the mail heat, and their names are Hon. E. F. Nuttall, Thomas P. Hernden, Thomas Sharks, J. L. Levi, S. G. Herndon, E. H. Sparks, G. F. Livas, W. Dewett, J. A. Prather, D. R. THE NASHVILLE PRISONERS -We stated you terday that a Lieutenant of the Fifty-first Ohio Regiment had passed through this city from Nashville, on Thursday evening, en route for Camp Chase. Their names were as follows: Roh't H. Hill, W. C. White, J. N. Elliott, L. D. Buckner, Jonah Thiner, Andrew Peacock, Wm. Gaid ner, John H. Dyer, John Hallihurton, S. M. Smith, A. J. Flatcher-citizens, arrested by order of Gov. Johnson, for treasonable conduct; C. Findley, Sorgeant Major of Morgan's Cavalry; W. R. Hanley, W. F. Suttee, privates in Morgan's Cavalry: Frank Atilla, Confederate Drill Master; P. Halcomb, A. Jones, Mike Grimes, Huntsville (Ala.) prisoners. Three of the party, including J. W. Wren, a rebel Captain, were left in the military prison in this city.

terday the circumstances connected with the few fast. arrest of a negro belonging to a Mr. Trotter, of Leland, of General Grant's staff, and having been | upon. arrested while in transit to New York under Gen. Grant's pass. The suit for the release of the negro wes brought by Captain Leland. The Jenkins, A. Q. M., in this city, June 12, 1862: testimony was heard, and the merits of the ques tions involved were argued yesterday befor Judge Ballaid, of the United States District Court, but the deci ion, under the writ of habea corpus, was withheld until lo-day. The presence of a number of locomotive and cars in Fifth street, and especially those be tween Main and Market streets, has become a positive nuisance. They are not only in the way of passing vehicles, but they are a source of an noyance to the residents of the vicioity, the nanghty hoys of the neighborhood ringing the hells of the engines and performing hazard(u) gymnustics upon the cars. Thoy should be removed at once.

PAINFOL ACCIDENT .- On Tuesday List, as two companies of the Twenty-eighth Kentneky Icfantry, Col. Boone, were starting from Lebanon, Tennessee, to Mnifreesboro', as an escort to Gen. Dumont, F. Kally, an Orderly Sergeant of Compary B, was accidentally thrown from the care, which passed over his leg and crushed it so hadly that amputation was deemed necessary. Mr Kelly, we are gratified to loarn, is now improving rapidly.

Some evil-door broke the hurner from the temp-post in the vicinity of the Presbyterian Church, at the corner of Fourth and Chestnut Jefferson street, unless stated otherwise in m streets, last evening, and, lighting the gas, the flames shot up through the foliage of the tree overhanging the lamp and cast a glare that could disease, no charge, he seen for equares, to the astonishment of the dealzene of the vicinity.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL .- Colonel George D ynkoep, of the Seventh Pennsylvania Cavalry. one of the heroes of the hattle at Lebanon, arriv ed last evening, and took rooms at the Louisville Hotel. He will depart for Nashville to-morrow. In the meantime his numerous friends in this city will be gratified that they have an opportunity to day to grasp his soldierly and loyal hand.

PRISONERS.-Four prisoners, taken at Salins, Tenn., recently, by the Ninth Pennsylvauia Cavalry, Col. Williams, arrived at Bowling Green vesterday. Their nemes are Samuel Granville, Smith Butler, Tipton F. C. Settle, and William Henry Allison. They arrived from Bowling Green vesterday in charge of Lient. Miller. They are all members of Granville Il amilton's company.

A CHANGE IN FOREIGN POSTAGE -Assistan Postmaster Kelly informs un that, by a recent order of the Postoffice Department, the postage on lettere to all the German States except Baden, via "Prussinn closed mail," is reduced to 282 🕏 🧦 ouoce when prepaid. Letters for Nova Scotis must be prepaid in full by stamps in future. No unpaid lotter for that province will be forwarded EXAMINATION EXERCISES -The examination of the pupils of the Bards'own Female Institute vill commence on Wednesday, the 18th inet., and close the following day. The examinations in this populer institution have been regarded heretofore as of the highest interest, and the forthcoming exercises will be peculiarly attractive.

The celebration of the battle of Bunker Hill at the Fair Grounds on the 17th inst., will be all that could he desired hy those who rememher the event to be commemorated with patriotic feelings. Speeches will be made and general good cheer will characterize the (ccasion,

G. W. Fisher is the name of the member o Capt. Blood's Cavalry who was killed in the skirmish with the Owen county maranders on Wednesday. He recided near Brooks's Station, on the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad, and his renains were taken there for hurlal yesterday.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. June 13, 1862. GENTLEMEN :-- It were necless to attempt nication. Living as long as I have amo he people of Louisville, and knowing as they the many obstacles and discouragements I had mucounter in those early efforts to do somethin worthy of Kentucky in behalf of the Union, which you refer, it is the most grateful colace is not these efforts have been kept in kind remem ir ance and appreciation by such citizens as your selves and those others whom you represent.

As to my services in the recent great buttle lewhich you refer, it would ill become me not to which you refer, it would ill heads to have the middle which they on refer, it would ill become me not to which you refer, it would ill become me not to which you refer, it would ill become me not to which you refer, it would ill become me not to which you have your refer, it would be the middle when it would be the property of the p dmit that you perhaps over-estimate them if you like them higher than those of any other Kennekians in my brigsda. We all strove to dwhat we know Kenneky would expect us to do i be presence of an enemy. It is of course gra-ying to find that such gentlemon as yourselv hick we performed that duty. In accepting t reffered testimooil of your appreciation, far be throm me to appropriate the whele complimen o myself, or even to the Kontuckians in my gal ant luigade, for full well I know that a larg part of your motive must be the expression your thanks to every officer and man in the br gads, whether from Kentucky or other State n thet sense I accept the compliment, and retur ordial thanks in behalf of the whole brigad crowing that its Kentucklans would decline ar impliment to themsolves that did not imply qual appraciation of the services of the gellar

Mr. Trumbull called up the bill from the Houto prescribing the oath of other, etc.

Mr. Sau'sbury thought it doubtful whother Congress hid the power to say that a man who takes the oath prescribed by the Constitution shall not exercise the functions of his office unless he takes an additional oath prescribed by Congress.

Mr. Davis contended that Congress had no power to enlarge or diminish the qualification of citions prescribed by the Constitution.

Mr. Trumbull said that the Constitution prescribed the form of oath for the President, but this set did not apply to the President, but to scribed the form of oath for the President, but this act did not apply to the President, but to those persons appointed to the civil, military, or naval departments. A clause in the eixth article provides that Senators, Representativer, and other officers shall be bound by oath to support the Constitution, but prescribes no form. The office of this act is so prevent persons engaged in the ribellion from holding office under the Government.
